

Integrating Cities Charter - Eurocities

What is it

The Integrating Cities Charter is promoted by the Eurocities, with the aim of building inclusive urban communities that are capable of promoting the positive values of diversity and mitigating the risks of polarization and social segregation of groups of migrants and foreign citizens.

The Charter recognizes the social and cultural value of migration and strengthens the role of local authorities in the development of urban policies for the integration of migrants and people of foreign origin.

The cities that join voluntarily the Charter will build a common platform for sharing experiences that starts from local contexts and reaches up to the European level.

Objectives

- Develop integrated actions to implement the objectives of the Charter
- Monitor progress by publishing periodic reports online with Eurocities
- Facilitate mutual learning to improve local integration policies
- Support the implementation of anti-discrimination laws and diversity policies with information projects and campaigns
